Labelled green bonds data

Read the announcement: First-ever public green bonds data list launched

Labelled green bonds are bonds that earmark proceeds for climate or environmental projects and have been labelled as 'green' by the issuer. The Climate Bonds Initiative has been tracking the green labelled market since 2009. Most of our public reporting on the market to date has been through the Climate Bonds blog and the annual State of the Market report in partnership with HSBC. In 2014 Climate Bonds Initiative decided to provide even more transparency on the green labelled market by publishing the list of green labelled bonds.

Please note the following points about the data:

- The purpose of this database is to track all self-labelled green bonds but it does not provide an opinion on whether the Climate Bonds Initiative agrees with this label
- Second opinion documents are listed when publicly available (on a best efforts basis)
- More analysis on the bond is available via the Climate Bonds blog
- Please note that additional taps of the same bond are listed separately
- Data is updated periodically and is therefore not live data.

For any queries on the data provided, please contact Tess Olsen-Rong
